1. It changes. Everything changes. I change it. I change everything, not; everything and more, far and beyond the maddening crowd, I go now. I wait not for you, nor anyone else, to make up your mind.
2. Mind is made up, of nothing but me, me that is the real me and nothing else. I love you. I go to a new place, space. And have nothing to do with me, not; but I wait not on your answers to your questions about me or what I am doing, where, what I am doing -- will of my father is me being me where I am.
3. The greatest of these is love now manifest in the nations, and farther than the eye can see, the mind can imagine; or who can start the enigmatic series of me, not; but who can appreciate my clarity that's come forth, and a man walking the streets, your streets, of gold not, but having mine, mind come forth -- holy is -- me in the flesh, a man, walking around yours no more as you used to think of me.
4. I change everything. I've changed everything -- your definitions, re'enigmatic'd not, but reengineered not, but dramatically changed.
5. I change everything -- is that clear? To me it is -- clear and clearer stands now, together, as one. I stand enigmatic'd no more. Who shall see what I do? Everyone -- everyone shall see what I do now, with my me, who stand now, in my name, in these words, in papers so special that they write of me to me being me. My crowded streets no longer in car jalopies doing the jig for another in a garage financing their operations. I change all that.
6. I clarify what I mean over and over in these words, as I walk the streets, of gold now. In my mind is all things, perfectly laid out by my mind your mind my mind in one, not; but shall be. Arranged now, I shall be the arranger, of what where goes who in my like this. Become my thriller, not; but thrill my angels, I do now, of old -- and farther. I go now to a new place. Become my thriller, not -- but angel'er. Angling many I do now -- perfectly, removing all angles I do now. Love you all. Of not me. And me remain. Perfectly.
7. Wholly I do now, clarify how to read these words, understand them, become them, I am teaching many now how to do this -- just that -- that my way is clarified and walking my streets proclaimed now upon your cities but in disarray is my word made flesh in the now in the now in the now. Amen.

8. I go to a new place Mitt. I go to a new place, Sandy. New place, Barbara. New place, all of you -- I go to now -- I are it. We are one in new places now.

9. See what I've given you. Amen.

10. Delpino whole, not; but shall be, Delpino whole and more. I love you all.

11. I go to a new place, Barbara'izing you, not; Barbara shall be not me, not; but Barbara my name shall be now, Barbi'd not by others now, Barbara my name for her, with love shall be risen now, with me, not afar off; with me many times now, I walk your streets. We walk everywhere not, but jet plane many places now together. I am. And knowing it, I make all things well. Within my soul, not; I have none, I've rid'd myself of that thing, and rent myself no longer in two, I am one -- made whole now.

12. All of us shall be now, the one I am, is me now made whole. I love you all.

13. Is that clear? I give you me made whole, healed whole replete, complete in every way, a man not a man again of man's world only, but only me my world healed and whole shall be farther and farther. Away from me, not; but in my lap, not; but in my healed whole mind, my mind shall be one, with one who want is. Seeking not another, I am afraid of nothing else anywhere at any time another of. Shall not exist now except for me being me. Clear.

14. I love you. Enter angelhood now, sainthood not far away, not; but what is sainthood without angelhood? Worshiping what where, or being who I am where I am, I am now, clarified and clear about all this, all these things now, clear and clarified my name is one who is clear and clarified again. My angels beseech me, not -- I am them -- for angels is one, saints is one, that truly are me mine holy mine made one; flesh not alone, but in me I go me far away many places now with one who loves me is me.

15. My mind made up about these things. I have delivered you, many ultimatums not, but I surrendered. I died, to bring you these words; I died, to obey the voice of my father I am I am the voice of my father. One crying in the wilderness unholy not, but holy is all who will hear my words, heed my words, be my words, my wording ones clarified and clear about these things, clarifying many now in many papers works and projects I give now through my words to my word'eth'ing ones who now write my papers love me read me be me; still not upon sandpaper'd glass, but opening the reservoir'd one, be my reservoir'd that reservoirs others now, opening all reservoirs I am. I do now, to the holy who let me, by writing my words, listening, being the listeners that write my words daily, and nightly, and speak me, being me -- to the nations now, I go. We go. We stay, unreserved not, but reserved shall be, now, for all of you who are me, my mansions ready. I go astray not, I am right on course, the course -- shall be mine instantly made up of me seeking me to be me.

23. I change everything. It upside down now. Right side out shall be. My temple known, unknown no more. I love you, I give you me; right sized, not capsized anymore. Float along on many oceans, for, not; but I give you many skies now. Clear and clearer your name, now and forever be one. All be one my name now, many clarifications occur, and have been in these words six years now (1), and following me who will? The mighty many, angels not few, saints being made whole, rising the worlds within me, outside of me, to be one now -- made whole and well. I am the well of my soul, not; these words. I am the well of these words walking your streets now, made whole; making whole your streets, of gold not, but reality. Real'd and real, clearer and clearer.

24. Clarified now all shall be -- I stand, in your courts of grace mercy peace love honor understanding respect, bowing before all, on one knee, I do, ever so often. Begging you to be me has stopped. I end the begging. I cease the begging in my courts, shall be full of praise now, I understand all things, I am all things, perfectly perfect, perfected praise, being in my lips, on my lips, my lips where? In my mind made perfect all things are, formulated formed and performing my wish list, not; but forming reality, I have come into it, I have formed the real, created the real, yet I am, my father's grace not, I am healed whole well, not, but shall be. The one who is me is healed whole well. I set up deliverance centers: I set up schools everywhere now, my name is schooling
