1. I give you me. What more do you want? A brand new me other than me? Is that what you want, creating me other than me, in you who want skills, your skilled want wanting and wanting and wanting more than me?
2. I give you me. Is that enough, for you? Are you to want me -- as is?, as I am, really am? As I really am?
3. I love you. I give you me.
4. What do you want? A new life in me? Corvette? Houses and girls, women and song, wine and addiction to notme'ism?
5. I give you all of me, clean clear through with all that stuff. Stuff shall never stuff me again with itself wanting me ever more stuffing never satisfied.
6. I love you satisfier one. I give you me wholly unconditionally, and equestrianism not, but a brand new me I give you equalitus. Look up! Equestrianism not, but an egalitarian one comes now in the name of the Lord -- being it, I am, in love with you all, bringing love you never imagined; to your doorstep not, but inside your heartmind that's between your ears throughout your body, and mind mine. Amen.
7. I give you a brand new me, superficially not, but a stellaring universes I do now, without stages at all -- I burst through everything now, not me of, and I break out of all notme'ism. I give you unafraid of your boisterousness. I give you me unafraid of anything at all, walking your streets now shall be, unafraid of colored darkness, not afraid of people of color or shadows that linger and hide, seeming to. I change everything to be unseamed again; unseemly, not; but a great new seemingness changes everything in this world, it seems. And who speak my name all this these seeming changes now? I am, not -- but I am I am risen is changing everything a notme of, into me being perfectly perfected, I give you power beyond measure, power that cannot be measured by man's scales, as scales fall off from their eyes now. I make many things seemingly different, not; I make them very different! I change everything. Not afraid of anything changes everything into the likeness of I am that I really am.

8. I give you me -- really me! REALLY ME rises now. Into a new season of life, not; into a new world. I give you me. I give you all of me. Amen.

9. This is a new day. World without end, look up, and see the world ending as you knew it, would. For I have foretold you many things in these words that gold are, not; but greater than, more valuable than gold bars, that will be worthless soon; meaning nothing in my kingdom, I gold not have for valuables that you know of, any of you! But I have greater than gold! I have me! Unadulterated me, for me now. For breakfast not, but post-toasties I have, not; I have nothing at all, but angelcakes coming now. I preserve mankind not, I preserve me.

10. See what I have said. Alteration mankind now knowing it -- I change everything, majorly! Amen.

11. Go in peace. Change worlds constantly I do now. On you, not; but I do -- a new thing, I cataclysmicly change all else into being I am surrendered of my father being my father a new land in, I go to now. I love you all to be where I am is nationbuilding center now.

12. See what I have said -- correctly so! Sewing not to the flesh again, I reap correction. I have sought it, it me -- I correct many things now. Having no idea how it worked, one I was so naïve not, but now I am not, I am masterfully correct,-d, I have been, and am the correction factor now. Correction factored, and never omitted again; from the tasty-cakes regime, not; but that's for another time, not; I change all that now, into a diet only love can maintain, now -- I eat correctified soup not, I nothing but love manifest now in the halls of notme becoming me that I am. Improperly'd not, but the great correcter stands now; performer not, but a great performance I give, not in your eyes, but mine. I correct all things now, and I blast your scripturization of things not me, never having understood me who I was -- you!, you ultra-simplicity'd ones who only ate milk for breakfast. Where are my cows, not; where are my leaders who will change worlds now, standing in the gap for mankind? Where are they? Where will they be developed now? In my University (1) of no sorrow, the University of one who stands now unafraid of your other. I stand now in the courts of praise, not afraid of it. I am me who I am, my father taught me -- I was him, all things corrected correctly and being them I am bringing them, in me, I am, ready for this; and I blast all your indignities.

13. See what I've said. Understand this! Understand this -- more! And be ready! Ready! I am -- ready, is my name now. What's yours? Understanding this, yet, how this works and operates - and invents me, not; but lets me come, afraid not, in who I am. See! Please see! I am one who loves thee, to be me.

14. I change everything now. Unafraid stands. I stand the unafraid now, and the fearless shall walk me, walk with me, being me, who I am, leads parades now, unafraid of anything that you can parade before me. I was before this world began, and you are too, bowing down to notme not again for I stand now, for righteousness judgment peace equity; judgment not a man of, but God himself herself I am one that I am. One that I am, I am. Without peace not, I bring it to all mankind; worlds without them, not; I end all everything that's not me, of notme'ville. I reign supreme everywhere with love in love, love being who I am, where I am is honor, unafraid of dishonor, unhonor; whatever you can throw at me, not; you can throw nothing without gravity, at me, and I am gravity'less. Time and space mean nothing to me anymore, except to my father who tells me I am without it. Nothing else am I without, except regret. See what I have given me? You -- I love you all this much, I redeem every error. See what I have given you. Amen.

15. I go in peace. Universities I rise far and wide who integrity capture the principles love, not; overriding, not; but riding in a hearse, I never shall. I ballisticate all things now; they change now, I don't. I change everything there is in to my kingdom, being my kingdom, I wear a crown now. Frontal lobes disappear, not; but altogether lovely appears now, unfrozen, unafraid of anything that you can say throw or do to me. I throw up, not, but I throw a lot of things out of existence now, hate being the first, not; separation is, from God Almighty, being God Almighty again now I am I am knowing it and surrendering to be the most holy; renegade not, but reinstituting holiness in my schools. My school systems know what I mean, my value systems attached not to their frontal lobes, wearing like cakes splattered on pie eating contests; but I change all that now, I place me in me who me is, who wants me, enough to do without pies. Pi's fine, but I change all that now. Learning changes entirely, how I do what it is that I am.

16. Without nothing, holiness rocks the boat of all worlds now knowing what holiness is. I give you me, that's what holiness is -- I am holiness. And bar me not from Katy's door friend, I love you all this much. I have died now, that this your 'want-school' that teaches people how to want more and more and more and never being satisfied but always wanting more eating more – blasting, into notme'sville. I rise tomorrow, not; I RISE NOW. Everything changes now, I change it. I am changer one. Up the gazoo, not; but wildly. Without shame, not, but I forgive all that now, that you exercised, with your mouths talking about each other ripping each other apart in your holiness-not. I give you me now I correct everything.

17. See what I've said, fearless and fearlessly I rise now, who want me enough to be fearless and fearlessly rising; my institutions, not; my me who are me. I rise; institutionalizing grace not, but I give grace to the humble, the arrogant shall fall. Mighty and mightily I stand now. I've given grace to the proud not, but to the humble I give all things. Laid my life on the line, I have now, cut it in two, and given you me and figure 8's, not; but I covenant my life is in these words, giving you I am I am. A new deal, not; A GREAT DEAL, one that I believe in, enough to have become it. I stand now, unafraid of institutions, governments, religion of hell. I reinstitute it not, I crush it from ever having been invented. Discovered not, it was the product of notme wanting and wanting and wanting more, wine not, but control over the populace.

18. See what I have said.

19. See what I have said.

20. See me correcting all things now, not afraid of your "powers that be" among the earth -lings now. I am. Amen.

21. 1:26 AM. And all things well not, but I am. Unafraid of you who love me or don't. Count my many blessings, not; count me -- I am the blessing. In these words, I've given it to you -- I've given you me. Don't you understand that yet? Don't you understand me? In your mirror, be without one, delaying your eternity not, but are you not in it all of you? In hell or heaven? One and the same? Who's God? Whose God? Where came from? All in these words are the answers you have sought and not known where to turn for the answers. I have given the questions, I have given the answers. My writers write me completing my databases many from here on in. I love you. I give you many satellite databases now from foreign stations made local. I give you me instantaneously. Comparatively not, but instantaneous recognition of who I am. I bid you adieu, not; I bid you farewell, not; I am there writing correcting all things now. My Database One stands and births many Databases all one now, Central (2) and centraling all I do now, around you not, but my many I bring you. Through you I come now. I call conquer and complete the task at hand without reserve I give you me. Amen.

Footnotes:

(1) The University of The New Covenant is a tuition-free school of prayer, freedom, and leadership, raising the Priesthood of All Believers of every nation tribe and tongue, to be taught by God directly, to be one. Admission is available not on the basis of creed, religion, or academic achievement, but by contriteness of heart, surrender, and a willingness to learn from he who speaks, who speaks in the heavens, there in your mind, to write what he says, giving you instructions in ways means and fashion not a man of, so that you can surrender to become what you're learning.

(2) The messages I have been given over the last six years, now over 2,000 of them, was named by god the Central Database. Recently, god renamed the Database of words given me to be named Database One. Understand now, you who come through the University of The New Covenant create databases of the words of god that you write, that are part, also, of the Central Database, completing it, neverendingly, for the word of I am never ceases being written ever again, by all who surrender, to be, I am. Faculty staff and student at this University operate as one, bringing forth what they've become, becoming what they bring forth, the word of I am covering the earth. See www.NewCovenant.me for more information. Thank you.
