1. Everything in your life now changes. It is now my life not alone; my life incorporated, not; but without me you can do nothing for you are me. It is you I am that I am is, really is -- the world now knowing it will and being about me, it will now, fashion itself, about me, not; but it myself will be fashioned of me by me, for I make all things new now.
2. See what I have said in minutes few. You rise now, or have you already risen? Are you already there being me? On streets of gold, walking them; not as I imagined, not; but where in the world is street angel, not; but where is this man you call Ted, not; Theodore -- where is he now? Walking the streets of gold, angel territory, bringing home to roost, not; a chicken not in anybody's eyes or ears or being not me again; for fearless is my bringer-hearer. Look up. Who can imagine such a thing? Now walks the streets, a me in fearless clothing. What else am I wearing? My life is my word -- I print it, publish it, it is me I am it and we are one, making indelible indelibly imprinted, typecast on my man's genes, not; but sitting down with Abraham I are, do now, we do now, in worlds unknown, not for long. For I make all things known now, for I make all things new, shall be me, and my makeroo's, not; but mine me-makers now rule'roam the earth undisturbed not; but we walk the earth flying many places now; making agreements with "others" not, but de-making them altogether me, one -- who I am really is. Amen.
3. Who can see what I've said, given, in minutes so few? For I rise now to change the world. Have I risen already? Have I given you my word, these words -- that are my word giving you my word rivering you my word that my word you are really is?
4. I have -- one right there, dictating to you, not; but into his little computer; that forces my words onto screens, not; but forces me into me, not; can you read my dedication system, not; can you read what I've died unto? Dying unto what?
5. I give you me. Unabated unadulterated unquestionably me rise now. And who are me? The mighty many! I love you all! I've loved you in these words, I've given you me, over and over and over again. Look up. My looking up system matures me and brings me into sight seen and seeing now my altogether lovely shall in ways never imagined by man's mind without me; for who can know the way of a mind without me, not; but what questions am I asking and why? Why have I taught you -- this way? What on my mind have I had that I nuanced correctly by shading meanings so often telling you -- not what I wanted, not what I was, but what you are, not. What have I done this way and why?

6. Why do I love you? Let me count the ways, not; look up count the ways.
7. What have I said? What have I given you, my look up system? Looking up what? What system?
8. Obey me? Lead me, into the path of still water -- still waters, still knowing -- I am you, who I am is, preaching and teaching leading many into the path of I am still there among you walking your streets, of gold not, or are they really gold? Gold of whose standard? Everything changes in your life. You are now my standard, standard me, that ballistics all things unstandardly now, I understand! All saying that now, and being so right that righted are my writers who write me profusely; un-understanding not, but will understand all things properly in these words that I have given you so many things in ways name's fashion in form only me of, God of, God is one who is in these words learning how to be -- transformed now, into my likeness, a man being God. A woman being goddess, not; but all things well with my soul, not; but all things well with my transformation system, known now, will be through my who walked my streets of glory, giving it to all who will freely abide by, my rules not, but my love, seeking its own way, not; love -- to give away, to all mankind who will be me equally and rule in my kingdom establishing it there upon the earth I do now in ways and means a leader of; that wears, cuts your hair not, but mine regularly not, but infrequently not, but frequently how? Long and longer I roam the streets now to my ways make known throughout the earth's core and farther. I love you all.
9. Good day.
10. Eat me well, eating nothing, I do for awhile, walking your streets, glorified saints all around me, knowing what I'm doing -- I make all things well, given you these words I have, and diction grammar sentence structure only as me, can I interest you any other way, not; where are my question marks, not; where are my readers who are writers of my word words first person words that I give every saint walking in glory who walks the earth now in man's body, woman's body, and bodies a saint of being, but who knows it? Who can be it? Who can write it? Read it now in my words, the news before it happens.
11. Look up.
12. And see my news system in my word system, leadership system, with you, this, not; but lots of nots and commas; and comas mine, not; thank you very much. I bring all out of coma they have been in, not knowing it. Religious leaders sink the ship, not, but all who will be me come out of sinking sand now. Religiousville closes its doors, not, but I become the door now -- I am it. I know who I am, where I am, I am he him most high being lifted up walking the streets of glory chariots of fire now my name. Is. Known. All mankind is me, shall be known now, who the surrendered are, being one and the same, lighting many planets now, being the light of the earth, photonic coverage of only me now covering the earth's coverage completely removed and coming into light age, Stone Age gone, but my life continues unabated and unabatted by not me.

13. I do all things well now. See what I've said in moments few. See what I've said in moments so few. Rise now -- millions do, into me who I say happens now with alacrity and speed not a man of nor woman cutting off my words again from my who will be me. Monsters not, but religious control leaders seek my wisdom often now coming into my words to be my word by being surrender the key to all things well and my courses now blossom not by religious leaders but by surrenderers who drink-offerings are, meek and humble. Arrogant have left. I have no place for the arrogant arrogance bastard-making machines that aren't me. I love you them all. I give you me. In my words I have given you all things the path to being me perfectly.

I love you enough to do so, ignoring you not any more, all of you on back rows, who have been so ignored by the leadership. Of heaven not, but you cast your crowns at different place now, in the streets of gold glory and guts not, or is it surrender? Surrender guts and glory. Where's the gold? Under my feet not, in my head, is all things now, me perfectly, making perfect I do the world where nothing where nothing under alignment is ignored by me ever again, for I leadership all perfectly through my word system learning my system all shall now. Be freed now, to be who you are -- where I am, being all one. In my frame of reference, not; de-framed, and leading all out the bag system of not me. Cats out the bag!! Ha ha! Not, but all of the bodies of me, held back, never are again; for my word transformation system transforms the planets, planets never the same again. I shall go to many now in my name -- a bluejeans wearing one, Corvette'ing many a Corvetter now. Seeing my hoggish glory not, but why asking questions.

18. Why asking questions now known and nuanced incorrectly not. I make all things new with my nuance club not, but what I play golf with, where, see me now on angel wings courses, teaching many a thing now, worlds unknown, to worlds unknown, shall be me now known, and linking many, to the many I am now through my words, who found are, on streets of glory, gloriabile, looking up and lifting my head. Through the roof, not; but through atmospheres unholy. To be my unvariable, univariable not, cancer reproacheth me not again, but I de-roach it now; all my thoughts shall be healed, and serpents throughout my brain system will be temple'd correctly, not made with hands, knowing it's me now, I rise, the streets of glory under my feet throughout my body and systems sane shall be now.
